Prohibition Pays Own Enforcement Bill in County

(This is the fourth of a series of seven dispatches written after an extensive study of the prohibition question in which President Harding, prohibition Commissioner, Roy Haynes, Assistant Attorney General William L. White, of the Anti-Saloon League, Capt. W. H. Stanton of the National Association Opposed to Prohibition and other leaders submitted to private interviews with the writer their candid opinions on law enforcement and the outlook.)

Washington.—Prohibition expensive? And how has the treasury over-run the $500,000,000 loss in taxes which used to be collected on beverages? Does the government get any tax revenue out of the liquor illegally sold by "bootleggers," and does it even come taxes from the "bootleggers" themselves?

These questions go to the root of the problem and while it is true that from a moral standpoint the answer to each would be "no," the greatest good to the greatest number cannot be measured in dollars and cents, these questions are the most important phases.

First, of all prohibition enforcement itself is not expensive but rather profitable financially to Uncle Sam. Nine million dollars was appropriated by congress to enforce the Volstead law. The treasury balance sheet on prohibition for the fiscal year ending last June was as follows:

Federal fines collected during the year not including collections in Districts of Columbia and Alaska, $27,000,000.
Amount paid in compromise suits, $1,700,000.
Amounts collected in taxes and penalties including taxes on legal manufacture and legal sale of alcoholic liquors for medicinal, etc., $2,500,000.
Excess of bonds on which neture has been taken toward forfeiture, $1,000,000.
Total, $7,770,000.

On top of this are accumulated sums of approximately $500,000,000 in penalties for violation of the internal revenue laws, which means double the amount of the tax rate that used to be collected on liquor. This is the amount of the tax rate that used to be collected on liquor. This is the amount of the tax rate that used to be collected on liquor.

Ohio fines, $2,500,000.
Take the case of Ohio, for example, which spent $250,000 in enforcement of prohibition and collected $2,500,000 in fines. This item was divided between the state and the county treasuries, so that the communities which did the enforcing received about $1,250,000 last year out of prohibition cases.

There is no way of telling exactly the sums that have been received by the treasury in income tax cases. One case is pending in which a "bootlegger" made out an income tax return for $60,000 when he had in reality an income of only $10,000. Curiously enough the Department of Justice is

DAHL TAX BILL IS GIVEN UNANIMOUS COMMITTEE VOTE

SECURITY, PERSONAL PROPERTY OFFSET ARE REPEALED. INDUSTRY OPPOSED

65 State Manufacturers Give Up Expansion Plans as Measure Looms.

Madison.—The tax bill, which comes to the floor of the legislative assembly today, after the unanimous recommendation of the influential joint committee on finance and the assembly taxation committee, repeals all of the surcharges on property and income except the soldiers' educational bonus, which expires this year.

It repeals the security clause, the income tax law, the personal property tax offset to the income tax, and the provision of the present law exempting stock dividends and bank dividends from taxation. Repeal of the present property offset alone will add $1,000,000 to the revenue received from the income tax. Supporting the existing income tax law, the Dahl bill realigns the rates under the law ranging from one per cent on the first $1,000 of taxable income to 20 per cent on all over $75,000. A flat rate of six per cent on corporation earnings is established. Exemptions are increased for husband and wife, $125 per $500 and for children from $200 to $300.

Readjusts Tax Burden.
It changes the distribution of the tax law to 50 per cent to the state, 10 per cent to the county and 40 per cent to the locality. The state's share paid into the state treasury is set aside as a separate income tax fund.

"The effect of this bill is to about double the present receipts from income taxation," says the author, D. R. Dahl, of the bill. "The rate on property has doubled since 1911, hence this will reestablish the ratio between the burden of income tax and property taxes as it existed when the income tax law was enacted in 1911."

Manufacturers and industrial leaders of the state appeared before the committee to express their opposition to the Dahl bill, which they claimed would put an undue burden on them. There were threats that 65 state corporations would be unable to carry out their expansion plans, if the legislation contemplated were passed. The names of the industries were read by George Kull, secretary of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association.

When no other plan of taxation was offered by those opposing the Dahl or Severn bills, the joint committee determined to break all precedent and vote at once on the two measures before them. They were unanimous in support of the proposal of Speaker Dahl, which is said to be designed as a model tax statute.

SWEEPING CHARGES MADE BY TEXAN IN ELECTION CONTEST

BEATEN OPPONENT WOULD BAR MAYFIELD FROM SENATE JOB. FRAUD IS ALLEGED. Excessive Campaign Spending Charged; Divers Crimes Laid to Klan.

Washington.—Sweeping charges against the Ku Klux Klan and its officers were made Thursday in papers filed with the senate challenging the right of Earle B. Mayfield to take his seat in the next congress as a senator from Texas.

The election contest, and its accompanying charges were filed by George E. B. Paddy, who ran for senator last November in Texas as a republican and independent democrat, and who accused Mr. Mayfield during a bitter campaign with being the candidate of the Klan as well as of the regular democratic organization.

Excessive and illegal expenditure of the money by the Mayfield forces, fraud in counting the ballots and other irregularities were charged in the contest petition which asked for a recount. It was contended that Mr. Paddy actually was elected, but in the event the senate does not so decide, it was asked in the petition that Mr. Mayfield nevertheless be barred from taking his seat.

Charges Klan Conspiracy.
The Ku Klux Klan was charged in the petition with conducting its real designs under a cloak of patriotic pretensions, in order to hide plans to subvert the government of the constitution, the inviolable empire and with conspiracy to evade, violate and defeat federal state laws. It was further charged that the organization had attempted a prosecution of the Christian religion and had resorted to use of "brute force," "intimidation" and "immoral practices."

A detailed indictment of the Klan was included in the petition, which was regarded as the opening gun in a senatorial election contest of unparalleled bitterness.

Claims $100,000 Spent.
Expenses of $100,000 in behalf of Mayfield in Texas, primarily in violation of the state law limiting expenditures to $10,000, was charged in the petition which declared also that Mayfield had been illegally placed on the printed ballot and Paddy's name illegally deleted a place so that it had to be written in.

The printing of Mayfield's name was made illegal, it was contended by the alleged illegal expenditures, and the alleged "conspiracy" with the K. K. K.

Mayfield's election was sought by the K. K. K., the petition contended, to strengthen its forces.

Challenges Qualifications.
Expenses of $100,000 in behalf of Mayfield also were challenged, because of alleged violation of the corrupt practices act; alleged "false testimony" in connection with the election; and because of alleged "fraud" in the election.

A. E. Jones, 41, was overcome by coal gas while at work on the addition to Strimpel's garage Thursday morning. He was revived by Dr. E. B. Farnsworth. The gas even on the ground floor, was being used to thaw out the tin being covered with concrete on the floor above, where Jones was working.

Delcasse, Great French Diplomat, Dies Suddenly

Paris.—Thophile Delcasse, former minister of foreign affairs, died suddenly Wednesday night. He was 71 years old. Mr. Delcasse was one of the most notable of French statesmen during the past 25 years, having to his credit, above all else, the inspiration which led to the formation of the Anglo-French entente cordiale.

It was his influence, chiefly, that caused the ultimate break from the alliance between France and Italy, the result of a policy of friendship between France and Italy. His presence in the cabinet inspired confidence during the early days of the "Grand war."

French Deny Any Parley With Russ

Paris.—The French foreign office this afternoon flatly denied that the cabinet had decided to reopen negotiations with soviet Russia as asserted by Echo National. M. Dacheville, head of the foreign command attaché in the countries bordering on Russia and officials said he was going on a mission to those countries, and not to Russia.

While the assembly in session at Madison, Wednesday, voted to kill the dog license law, the measure should be brought up to the senate and the governor would not become effective until 1924, according to the understanding here. This makes it necessary for all dogs to be licensed this year.

Some of the most sensational murders ever committed in Rock County were the result of hoarded money—thieves heard of it, and to get it had to take the lives of those who protected it.

On the other hand, thousands of families have been helped over a serious illness, an accident, or a severe loss, by what they had laid by in an interest-bearing savings account.

The Cookie Girl's Report For Today

The weather man was certainly good to me this morning. I started out with a light heart and a heavy purse and made my first call on Mrs. W. J. Skelly, 712 Milwaukee Ave., but she had no cookies, so I went to 812, the same street, and there I found no one at home. I wasn't even discouraged when Mrs. R. H. Barlow, 114 Jefferson Ave., said, "No cookies," because I knew I'd find plenty of Johnston's White Rose Cookies before the day was done.

I made a call at Mrs. J. C. Youngclaus, 115 Jefferson Ave., and she had cookies. However, Mrs. D. H. Behling, 1102 Oakland Ave., was out of them, but on Forest Park Blvd., Mrs. F. E. Buss, at 221, had them and told me she couldn't get along without Johnston's cookies. Mrs. W. C. Dutlie, 126 Forest Park Blvd., also had cookies, but when I got over to 314 S. Main St., I found no one in. At 318 S. Main St., Mrs. Fred Ellis had no cookies. Mrs. John Bick, 502 S. Main St., had White Rose Cookies. I would like to have made many more stops but as my time was limited, I could only make one more call and that was at Geo. Gower Sr.'s, 426 S. Bluff St. Here I found four kinds of Johnston's cookies, and of course White Rose was among them.

Don't be disappointed if I haven't stopped at your home because I will be calling for two days more and may reach you then.

DRAW PLANS FOR BRIDGE ADDITION

Specifications Ready for Contractors—Open Bids March 2.

Evansville—Another big step toward enhancing the appearance of Evansville has been taken with the drawing up of specifications for widening the Water street bridge, E. J. Parsons, Jefferson, consulting engineer, has drawn up the plans. Bids for the construction will be opened March 2 and work is expected to be completed by summer.

The work is to be of the most modern type of concrete construction, the forms being left in place 28 days after completion to assure perfect setting. Steel beams for supports will be used, the weight being 50 pounds to the foot. The railing will be of the same design as the present bridge. Estimated amount of work required is 100,000 feet of excavation, 52 cubic feet of concrete, 283 linear feet of beams and 62 feet of railing.

Several out of town contractors have written asking for specifications.

Taxes Must Hit

$14,000 Average

Evansville—City Treasurer C. J. Smith, former Janesville alderman, says taxes must come in at the rate of $14,000 a day for the next five business days if Evansville's full 1923 levy of $1,100,000 is to be collected by Feb. 28, the last day for payment without the 5 per cent penalty. So far he has collected only $15,000, payments coming in at an average of only $1,000 a day.

He is feeling a little worrying, however, thinking the greater portion of the levy will be paid by next Wednesday.

needed, as in recent years the blizzard of the money has been in during the last few days of the period. After getting their general city taxes paid, Evansville citizens are turning their attention to filing their income tax returns, both state and federal, the last day for filing of which is March 5. H. R. Cook, deputy internal revenue collector, assisted many with their U. S. returns during his visit here recently.

Union—Miss Clara Forset, teacher of the Topper district school, stayed at Albert Joloth's during the latter part of the week. Harry Spooner and son, Gillies, went to Chicago Friday, to visit Mr. Spooner's mother for a few days. John Johnson returned Saturday night from Deloit, where he has been visiting friends and relatives. Lloyd Severson broke his arm cranking his car, Sunday. Selmer Nelson has taken Severson's place on Harry Spooner's farm. Mrs. Rollo Dobson Janesville, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beorbe, the past week. Anton Coles and family are improving rapidly from their recent illness. Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Janesville, spent Sunday at the home of George Severson. The Union Ladies Aid will be held at Lyman Gillies, Wednesday, February 22. Mrs. Mary Johnson, of Fellsburg Station, spent several days last week with her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Odegard. Phelps were in Evansville, Thursday night.

What Influenced Lincoln—According to Abraham Lincoln's biographers he had but six books to read in his boyhood, and these he pored over until he had absorbed their very essence. First on his list came his beloved Bible. Numberless quotations and references in his speeches were drawn from it, showing what a marked influence it had upon him and his life. His whole life and deeds forcibly exemplified the Bible's teachings.

Lincoln's Bible had no such helpful pages of essays, references and explanatory information as are incorporated in the Big Print Red Letter Bible, nor was his Bible printed in such beautifully clear type. Book-making in those days had not reached the state of perfection which it has attained today, and even if it had, he was too poor to have been able to purchase any but the most simple copy. We all have word pictures of him lying at full length, poring over his books by candlelight. Think, by contrast, what our opportunity is today, and how easy it is to secure the volume being given, by coupon plan, to this paper's readers.

PAVING BIDS TO BE OPENED MAR. 2

City Looking Forward to Heavy Tourist Traffic This Summer.

Evansville—With bids for concrete paving on West Main street scheduled to be opened Friday, March 2, and construction expected to start the following month, Evansville is looking forward to the summer of 1924 when it will be linked to Janesville, Rockford and Chicago by a solid band of concrete. The city is anticipating the biggest influx of automobile tourists in its history and is going ahead with plans to ease for them, in the improvement of the tourist camp and in other ways.

The paving program for the city calls for the improvement of two blocks on West Main street and a stretch on No. 16 highway from the railroad tracks east to connect with the remaining portion of the Janesville-Evansville concrete highway to be finished by County Highway Commissioner Charles E. Moore this year. The greater part of the paving within the city will be 36 feet in width.

While tourist traffic was heavy through Evansville last year, it is expected to be much larger after the completion of the highway to Janesville. All last year motorists were compelled to travel the Magnolia detour from this city south, but despite this traffic was much greater than the preceding year when the direct route south was open.
